

CONTENTS.

v

CHAPTER XII.

HAYES AND KESTON.

PAGE

Situation and Rural Appearance of Hayes—Etymology—The Parish Church—Discovery of Roman Remains—Charitable Bequests—The "George" Inn—Hayes Place—Lord Chatham—Hayes Common—Sir Vicary Gibbs, and Hallam the Historian—Baston, or Boston, House—Keston Common—The Source of the Ravensbourne—A Curious Legend—A Roman Encampment—The Keston Mark—Holwood—The "Wilberforce Oak"—Holwood House—Keston Church—The Archdeacon's Well—Warbank—Etymology of Keston—Descent of the Manor 106

CHAPTER XIII.

FARNBOROUGH AND DOWNE.

Productions of Farnborough—Early History—Tubdens—Church of St. Giles—Greenstreet Green and Knockholt Beeches—Downe—St. Mary's Church—Charles Robert Darwin—Downe Hall—High Elms—Sir John Lubbock—Cudham and its Church 116

CHAPTER XIV.

WEST WICKHAM AND ADDINGTON.

West Wickham—Annals of the Parish—Wickham Court—Gallery of Portraits—Keston Church—"The Archdeacon's Well"—Etymology and Early History—Wickham Church—Mr. West, the friend of Lyttelton and Pitt—The Post Glover's Absence of Mind—Discovery of Palaeolithic Weapons and Instruments—A Group of Remarkable Trees—Addington, its Boundaries and Etymology—Castle Hill—Singular Tenure of the Manor—Descent of the Manor—The Parish Church—The Burial-Place of Archbishop Tait—A Cluster of Tumuli—Addington Park—Its Purchase as a Seat for the Archbishops of Canterbury—The successive Archbishops who have lived here 124

CHAPTER XV.

SHIRLEY, WOODSIDE, AND ADDISCOMBE.

General Characteristics of Shirley—Broom-Making Industry—The Parish Church—Shirley House—Woodside—Croydon Racecourse—Addiscombe—Its Early History—Addiscombe House re-built by Evelyn's Son-in-Law, Mr. Draper—The House the Residence successively of Lord Chancellor Talbot and Lord Liverpool—Narrow Escape of Pitt—Addiscombe House converted into a Military College for the East Indian Army 136

CHAPTER XVI.

SANDERSTEAD, WARLINGHAM, FARLEY, AND CATERHAM.

The Manor of Sanderstead—All Saints' Church—Sanderstead Court and Quern Elmsteth—Farley and its History—John Horne Tooke—"The Diversions of Farley"—A Remarkable Libel Case—The "Eligibility of the Clergy"—Warlingham—Early History—"Whipping the Apple Trees"—Farleigh—St. Mary's Church—Caterham Valley—Asylum for Imbeciles 139

CHAPTER XVII.

CROYDON—EARLY HISTORY, ETC.

Situation and Early History—Etymology of Name—Discovery of Coins—Historical Associations—The Old and New Churches of St. John the Baptist—Destruction and Rebuilding—Monuments and Epitaphs—Mural Painting in the Church—Register—Dr. William Cleiver and the Highwayman 148

CHAPTER XVIII.

CROYDON (continued)—THE ARCHBISHOP'S PALACE.

Present Condition of the Palace—"Standing Houses" of the Archbishops of Canterbury in former times—Early History of Croydon Palace—Its Situation and Extent—Fish-ponds, &c.—The Great Hall—The Guard Chamber—The Chapel—Biographical Sketches of Successive Archbishops of Canterbury who resided at Croydon 158